

On 17 January 2018, USAID and Power Africa launched a 'Guide to Community Engagement for Power Projects in Kenya'. The purpose of the handbook is to provide guidance to developers of energy projects in Kenya on how to effectively and meaningfully communicate and engage with local communities.

Having contributed to the development of the guidebook during workshops with USAID, Power Africa, other project developers, members of Civil Society Organisations as well as representatives of different communities and government bodies, Lake Turkana Wind Power is honoured to visually feature on several pages of the guidebook, including on its cover page.

Electronic copies of the guidebook are accessible via the following link: <https://www.usaid.gov/powerafrica/kenya>
